

simply beautiful timber windows, doors and conservatories

There is something quite distinctive about genuine hardwood when it is used in your home.

We have been creating beautiful windows, doors and conservatories for over 15 years. Bringing together the expertise of our skilled carpenters with the finest hardwood we create a range of products that is entirely natural, looks great in every situation, has superb thermal properties and is widely recognised as a sound environmental choice.

Every window, door and conservatory we produce is hand-crafted in our Hertfordshire workshops with attention given to the finest of details to ensure the finished product is a joy to live with for years to come.

Replicating original design features we can create a period feel or take a more contemporary approach to make your home unique amongst its neighbours.

The beauty of timber, crafted for your home

Our craftsmanship is underpinned by the very best modern production techniques to ensure our products are finished to the highest possible standard.

It would be very difficult for us to show you in a brochure the many different types of windows, doors and conservatories that we can craft for you. To help you make the right choice for your home, our network of specialist and skilled installation partners will guide you through the whole design and selection process.

The beauty and natural charm of timber windows is plain to see and is the reason why it has become the ultimate window of choice for homes whether traditionally styled or more contemporary in appearance.

timber windows a naturally beautiful view on the world

All our windows are comb-jointed and hung on stainless steel friction hinges with a multipoint locking system fitted with a choice of brass, chrome, black or white key locking handles and a night-vent facility as standard.

All windows are manufactured to accept 24mm double glazed sealed units, are externally glazed and are fully draught-proofed. The overall appearance of your windows can be greatly enhanced with the addition of 'dummy vents', which ensure simple and consistent sightlines and also allow the windows to be internally beaded.

As well as our standard casement windows, flush casements are also available that replicate the traditional elegance and grace of their original counterparts, with all the benefits of modern design technology.

Whether as an entrance to your home, or leading out into a garden, our range of single and double doors will delight you every time you enter or leave your home.

a delight to come home to

Our range of entrance doors can be fully glazed, part-glazed or completely solid timber, but whichever design you decide is right for your home you can rest assured that they either replicate traditional period doors or add a contemporary feel to your home without compromising on security or durability.

Our classic double French doors will flood your home with light and provide a perfect entrance to a garden or terrace. French doors can be designed with matching panels to the sides and above. They can either open in towards your home or out in the garden and can feature Georgian bars or solid arches or simply be left as plain glass.

The final choice of design is really down to you. Our task is to craft your designs in our workshop to create windows and doors that will please you for years to come.

All of our doors are hung in frames, fully draught excluded and fitted with a Yale Nightlatch and five lever dead lock as standard so you can be confident in the overall weather and security performance of our doors. A multipoint locking system is also available if required.

Doors feature mortice and tenon joints and are available in 55mm (2¼") thick. They can be sited directly to the brickwork of your home or can be fitted to a range of sideframes, including radius head designs.

A choice of styles

Individually crafted to perfectly match your individual requirements, the styles of windows and doors shown here is really just the beginning of the process of choosing the right design for your home.

The illustrations and descriptions contained in this leaflet have been carefully prepared but we reserve the right to make changes and improvements in our products which may affect the accuracy of the information contained in this leaflet.

When we build our unique Hertswood conservatories, rooflights and orangeries, the true craftsmanship of our carpenters comes into play. Each is hand built and hand finished from start to finish and installed with care to grace your home for years to come.

timber conservatories beautifully crafted for your home

A conservatory, a rooflight built into a roof, or an orangery adds a valuable new dimension to any home whether you are looking for extra living space, a playroom for the children, a bright new kitchen workspace or office.

Working closely with our customers, we custom-design your conservatory or orangery depending on your individual requirements, thus creating an addition to your home you will want to use every single day.

The style options are limited only by your own imagination. You can choose from traditional Victorian or Edwardian designs to more contemporary lean-to designs. Whatever your preference, the wide choice of windows and door styles and overall finish and colour allow you to make a very individual mark on what will always be a wonderful addition to your home.

The windows and doors of your new conservatory or orangery can feature a range of transom and mullions as well as swept or gothic arches. Panels can be full height with glass, raised and fielded panels or designed to sit on a dwarf wall.

To complete your conservatory, rooflight or orangery our craftsmen pay careful attention to the finer detailing that makes all the difference to the overall finished appearance such as dentil mouldings and decorative crestings and finials.

Each of our conservatories is individually crafted to provide the perfect addition to your home, whatever you want to use it for.

The styles shown here offer just a first hint of the endless designs options available to you when you choose one of our hand-crafted conservatories.

Our installation partners will be able to guide you through all of the many options available to help you create a beautiful extension to your home.

Our stunning range of windows, doors and conservatories encompass a variety of styles and finishes which combine to provide the perfect look for your home. Your installer carries an extensive range of colour swatches and will be able to advise on the many options available.

natural wood the finishing touch or an elegant painted finish

As well as a range of natural wood finishes you can also choose to have your windows, doors or conservatory painted or stained from a choice of hundreds of colours. Choose from crisp clean white, dramatic contemporary colours or distinctively understated heritage shades and, because your windows, doors or conservatory are designed to your exact specification you can even choose to have a different colour for the internal and external surfaces to get the very best of both worlds.

The right choice of colour or stain will also help your windows, doors or conservatory to blend with the rest of your home and garden.

Whether your preference is for a shade that blends with its surroundings or one that creates a bold contrast, our colour palette offers you the perfect finishing touch.

The nature of the painting process makes it difficult to accurately replicate the final colour in a printed brochure. Full details of the extensive choice on offer is available from your supplier and colour swatches are available on request to help you make your final selection.

Maintenance

Despite the surfaces of your windows, doors and conservatory being under constant attack from the elements - ultraviolet rays, water and temperature changes, your decision to choose timber means that you are investing in a wholly natural material that will look beautiful for many years to come.

Our complete range is factory finished to ensure a high-quality surface that can withstand the rigour of the elements year after year. We apply three coats of Sikkens micro-porous paint which allows the timber to do what it naturally should - breathe.

This rigorous finishing treatment ensures that moisture is not trapped in the timber and so allows it to remain permanently elastic so that the finish should not crack, peel or flake.

We recommend that you routinely inspect the finish of your windows, doors and conservatory and take any remedial action that is needed immediately, but generally you should not expect to have to repaint for up to 4 years, and then just a single coat will be required.

Selecting our beautiful windows, doors and conservatories for your home is just one part of the equation in making your home more beautiful.

Good installation is also of great importance which is why we have developed a network of local companies that have the necessary skill, craftsmanship and understanding of timber to complete your installation.
